Parish Mission Statement

We, the parish community of St George, celebrate the welcoming presence of Christ in our lives. Together with the universal Church, we are nourished and sustained through the Mystery of the Holy Eucharist, and we are inspired by the proclamation of the Word, guided by the Holy Spirit.

We continually seek to grow in a deeper understanding of our faith, to respect the sanctity of human life, and respond to what Jesus asks of us in our time by sharing our gifts and participating in parish activities and outreach to others.

From Your Pastor

In first-century Palestine, sitting down to eat with one another was an act of acceptance and respect. Meals affirmed the status of the one invited who was usually of the same social rank as the host. However, in today's Gospel, we get the impression that Jesus was invited with an ulterior motive as we are told that the Pharisees were observing him carefully with the intention of trying to trap him in some cultural or ritual infringement. Observing how people were jockeying for places of honor at the banquet, he reminds them of the true meaning of humility. Using the banquet image, Jesus highlights the embarrassment of having to give up one's seat to another of higher rank. He reminds the people there that by initially taking the lower position may provide the opportunity for greater esteem if one is brought to a higher position. This is a very practical lesson that can be applied to our daily living on many levels. For one who is given the task of leadership, it should be an occasion to not seek to dominate those in their care but rather a time to be a servant leader – self-sacrificing and humble, relying on God for strength. They should lead with and recognize their own limitations and humanity and collaborate with the all-embracing wisdom and love of God, the giver of all good gifts. This is particularly noteworthy when we see so much division in our world, our communities, our families and even in our Church. By embracing the message of today's Gospel, we can live our lives in a spirit of humility. This spirit will also allow us to realize the potential within ourselves to love and serve one another in a way that can lead to unity and true peace.

Expanded Daily Mass Schedule: Beginning Tuesday, September 6th, a Mass will be offered at 12:10 P.M. and Thursday, September 8th, a Mass will be offered at 5:30 P.M. These Masses will become part of our daily Mass schedule on Tuesdays and Thursdays thereafter. The daily Masses on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays will remain the same.

Fr. Niccolls

~ Stewardship Thought for the Week ~

In the Gospel today, Jesus warns us not to give in to hopes of repayment, but to give openly to the poor and needy. That sort of giving mirrors the bountiful giving of God, and Jesus assures us it is blessed indeed!

James Martin Speaks to us through his "Essential Writings"

Many Catholics were shocked to discover in 2007 that St. Teresa of Calcutta had spent much of her life experiencing a profound alienation from God. In these excerpts (Part V) from a James Martin essay that appeared in the March 17, 2008 issue of America
magazine, he talks about the "seven D's" – darkness, dryness, desolation, doubt, disbelief, depression and despair: "What are these states? How do they affect our relationship with God?...Depression is a profound form of sadness...One can be in darkness but not depressed. What about the other way around?
William A. Barry SJ (and a psychologist) says that "Rarely is the clinically depressed person able to experience consolation in prayer." Therese Bouchard, who writes a blog on depression for the spirituality
website Beliefnet, has suffered depression herself.
She understands it both from a theoretical and a personal point of view and agrees with Barry. 'When you're depressed you feel so angry at God, she told me. 'For some people it can lead you closer to God, as you struggle to express your anger and also cling to God as a last hope. For others it can distance you and lead to turning away from God.' Clinical depression needs to be treated by medical professionals as well as to be addressed in a spiritual setting...Sadness is different from depression. As Barry notes, 'Sadness over a painful reality in your life can be a sign that you are in touch with God.'"

---

Prayer Before Mass

O God, to whom every heart is open, every desire known and from whom no secrets are hidden; purify the thoughts of our hearts by the inspiration of your Holy Spirit, that we may perfectly love you, and worthily praise your holy name. Amen.

Did God Really Say That?

Making decisions during the course of our lives is not always easy. The decisions we make on a daily basis are able to be made almost automatically. But then, there are those decisions which may affect us or those we love for a long period of time. Reaching out to God in prayer is needed at a more intense level during these times.

As we pray for answers to a dilemma or problem we may be enlightened by God speaking through nature, something we have read, or the words of a friend etc. However, Fr. James Martin S.J. tells us in his book "Learning to Pray," our decisions are often revealed as we go about our ordinary life. However, we want to be sure so we still may ask, "Are the emotions, memories, desires, feelings etc. leading to a decision coming from God or from me?"

This is a call for discernment. Fr. Martin offers some guidelines to follow as we go about discerning.

-If we feel despair, uselessness or hopelessness, this is not coming from God. If we feel hope, inspiration, and/or tranquility, these feelings are generated by the spirit leading us to God.

-If an action doesn't lead to an increase in love and charity the desire to follow that path is probably not coming from God.

-If a perceived solution to our dilemma does not fit with the God we know from Scripture, tradition and our own experience it is not God speaking to us.

-As we pray for a resolution to a specific problem we may wish that God respond in a certain way. Fr.

Martin reminds us not to conjure up a response that corresponds to our wishes. He urges patience. As we pray we may need to wait for God to speak clearly.

-God enters our prayer most often when there is an important matter at hand. Fr. Martin tells us that in prayer when we are most attentive to God's voice we can trust what is happening.

Margaret Silf is an author, retreat leader, and proponent of Ignatian spirituality. In her book, "Close to the Heart: A Practical Approach to Personal Prayer," she offers a pertinent thought on discernment. She says, "What comes from God will draw us closer to Him and closer to one another. God's voice will lead us more and more toward love."
